Qualities of an Effective Board Member

Personally . . .

- Recognizes and respects the individual strengths and difference of each board member, and supports everyone's right to express opinions freely.
- Can disagree on issues and still maintain respect and trust for other board members.
- Understands the need for confidentiality on issues – personnel, pending litigations, contracts – that can be discussed only during closed sessions.
- Contributes to have board meetings operate in a dignified, professional manner in which everyone is treated with civility and respect.
- Interacts with other board members in a positive, constructive, helpful manner.
- Is motivated to serve on the board solely for the purpose of maintaining and improving the community.

Professionally . . .

- Supports the board's key role in policy, vision and goals, community engagement, budget adoption, and fiscal responsibility.
- Supports board decisions even when personal views differ from the majority.
